Failure exploration

v0.2 stressed 10 times per level; a level breaks below 50% survival.

- Survives without stress: 80%
- Crushed by: communication_failure (assumption actor_policy)
- Best alternative: None
- First loss on average at tick 2.0
- sensor_failure: holds up to severe, breaks at collapse
- communication_failure: holds up to severe, breaks at collapse
- weather_degradation: holds at every tested level
- enemy_reaction_speed: breaks already at mild
- equipment_overheat: holds up to severe, breaks at collapse

Variable	mild	moderate	severe	collapse	Breaks at	Sensitivity
sensor_failure	80%	70%	70%	40%	collapse	+0.40
communication_failure	70%	80%	80%	10%	collapse	+0.70
weather_degradation	80%	100%	90%	100%	never	+0.00
enemy_reaction_speed	40%	40%	50%	30%	mild	+0.50
equipment_overheat	80%	80%	50%	20%	collapse	+0.60

Plan comparison

Batch military_urban_001_doctrine: 50 runs per variant, 150 runs, seen from RED.

Conflicting orders: P1 vs P2 (objective, priority, risk); P1 vs P3 (location). Highest win_rate: branch P1 (0.12). Lowest failure_frequency: branch P2+P3 (0.19). Lowest mean_hp_lost: branch P1 (65.98). Lowest mean_risk_events: branch P1 (1.73). Highest mean_score: branch P1 (0.4128).

SKYVAULT does not choose between the branches; NEXUS or the user decides which orders to keep.

- Best win rate: aggressive
- Best failure frequency: aggressive
- Best mean hp lost: defensive
- Best mean risk events: defensive
- Best mean score: aggressive
- Conflict C1: P1 vs P2 at tick 1: both order red_002; both high priority; risk medium vs low
- Conflict C2: P1 vs P3 at tick 1: both send a unit to [1, 1]
- Decision required: yes

Variant	Win	Fail	HP lost	Risk	Score
aggressive	18%	12%	201.64	6.36	0.379
